TERMINAL BILLS WITH SAFE GUARDS

Business Men Believe City Should Accept Conclusions of League's Committee.

William B. Harrison, president of the W. B. Harrison Grain Co., who in an interview in the Post-Dispatch Sept. 4 said, "I regard the present terminal conditions in St. Louis as criminal," now takes a more hopeful view of the situation.

In that interview Mr. Harrison also said: "The grain men of St. Louis are being bankrupted. Already two-thirds of our trade is gone to other markets. The reason is an attempt to dislodge St. Louis shippers with the conditions, so that the Council will be asked to extend the charter rights of the terminal association."

When asked Monday morning for his opinion on the promises of the terminal association to the committee of business men, printed in Sunday's Post-Dispatch, he said: "I have great confidence in the committee of business men that investigated the subject and I believe they have taken steps that will lead to the satisfactory solution of the terminal question."

"I believe that Mr. McChesney is sincere in the promises he has made for the Terminal Association."

"I would like to be shown, however, that the Terminal will do what it promises to do before I would like to see the franchise granted."

"If the ability of the Terminal Association to carry out its promises depends on the willingness of the individual roads comprising the association to carry out their promises, then I think the city should demand the ratification of all roads, individually and collectively, before the franchise is granted."

"I read the report of the business men's committee very carefully, and I would judge from it that the open gate for St. Louis commerce is at last in prospect."

"If the Terminal Association will keep its promises, it is entitled to the support of the city in return, as it means to expend millions of dollars in its improvements."

"The Post-Dispatch deserves all possible consideration for bringing the present situation about."

Kingsland Asks for Reciprocity.

L. D. Kingsland, president of the St. Louis Manufacturers' Association, who actively opposed the terminal bill, said: "My impression is that the same report in substance was made to the Manufacturers' Association by the Terminal Association several years ago when the Manufacturers' interview the terminal. We were always treated with the utmost courtesy by the terminal officials."

"I have no doubt that the terminal officials mean all they say. Time will prove what they will do."

"The Manufacturers' Association favors giving the railroads every facility possible. In return the city, however, has a right to some reciprocity. In other words there should be reciprocity."

J. W. Van Cleave, vice-president of the Buck Store and Range Co., and one of the first to demand relief from the bridge authority, said: "I think the Business Men's League report covers the cost fairly. Two things are apparent—first, that the ordinance now pending ought to be guarded, and that quick and second, that every facility and encouragement should be given the railroads to increase their facilities."

"It is apparent, I think, that the railroads have come to realize what they have got to do, and if Mr. McChesney means what he says, they are going to grant everything for which I have been working for years—a St. Louis bill of lading and west side delivery."

"I believe, then, that the Municipal Assembly ought to be asked to pass the ordinance. With the aid of a good lawyer, believe, they could be amended in an hour to secure everything that Mr. McChesney promises in the ordinance, and binding on both sides. All we need is a little business courage. The way seems to be open for relief."

"St. Louis is in the position of a man with more business than he can handle. Industries and merchants have got more than the railroads can handle. The result is congestion and loss of business. Unless we can relieve the situation at once, the way thus opened for us will be closed. I believe in a year or two, if the thing is not straightened out and there will be no congestion."

W. F. Funsten of Funsten Brothers Commission Co., an opponent of the Terminal bill, said: "If the report is boiled down and put in shape to be binding on both sides, it is all right in my opinion. The thing to do now is to pass a set-out in the report, binding both sides. The solution of the terminal problem proposed in the report is all right. All that remains is to put it in effect."

MILKMAN FINED IN COURT.

Selling Skimmed Milk Causes Arrest of Five.

Fines of $25 were imposed upon the following milkmen in the Wyoming street police court Monday morning for selling skimmed milk: August Wiesling, 309 Madison street; Joseph Andrus, Luxembourg; Charles Knapp, 206 Union street; William Schulz, 724 La Salle street; William Schulz, 724 La Salle street.

RESULTS IF PROPOSITION IS ACCEPTED. WHAT TERMINAL OFFERS. WHAT TERMINAL DEMANDS

1. To do all in its power to provide a St. Louis bill of lading for traffic intended for St. Louis or originating in St. Louis, taking the matter up with the Central Traffic Association at once.
2. To provide St. Louis freight facilities in the shape of tracks and warehouse, in so far as possible along the river front in the vicinity of Washington avenue to increase them as needed; also to place stations in other parts of city accessible to business interests.
3. To construct passenger station in vicinity of Washington avenue and the levee, exact location depending upon location of proposed elevated loop.
4. To pay $150,000, once promised toward a Clark avenue bridge, into city treasury when ordinance is passed, to be used for Ewing avenue bridge or other purposes.
5. The Terminal executive committee will recommend the board of directors co-operation with the city in acquisition of property opposite Union Station for a park.
1. Passage of three ordinances now pending in the municipal assembly as follows:
  - (a) Elevated loop bill, granting franchise for elevated double track loop on levee from Washington avenue to Market street, connecting Eads bridge and the levee elevated and for doubling width of present levee elevated for 2200 feet south of Chestnut street, making it four tracks instead of two.
  - (b) Subway bill, granting franchise for construction of subways for baggage, mail and express at Union Station, also vacating parts of Eighteenth, Twentieth and Tom streets and Clark avenue about Union Station.
  - (c) Atlantic street bill, vacating streets between Twenty-first street and Grand avenue, surrounding 25 city blocks.
2. Passage of all ordinances necessary to make possible proposed improvements, including St. Louis terminals, Washington avenue passenger station, coal yards and storage yards for passenger and freight cars.

TERMINAL SITUATION IN A NUTSHELL.

1. St. Louis terminals to be enlarged as needed, where St. Louis freight, both inbound and outbound, may be handled to and from cars.
2. St. Louis bill of lading, provided the terminal association secures the agreement of its proprietary lines and their connections and of the Central Traffic Association to the plan.
3. Abolition of necessity for hauling freight consigned over lines east of the Mississippi river in wagons between St. Louis and East St. Louis.
4. Additional yards for handling St. Louis coal, for storage of passenger cars and for movement of freight, thus relieving congestion.
5. Freedom from danger of interference with east side commerce, provided the bridge approaches are properly safeguarded, particularly against high water.
6. Largely increased capacity of Eads bridge.
7. Freedom from necessity of using tunnel for passenger trains crossing Eads bridge.
8. Increased value of taxable property in St. Louis, including value of terminal's property and value of industries attracted by increased facilities.
9. Greater facility and expedition in handling baggage, express and mail at Union Station.
10. Further occupation of levee and river front by tracks of proposed elevated loop and by doubling of present levee elevated.
11. Narrowing of Eighteenth street north of Clark avenue from 120 to 80 feet also change in course of Twentieth street and loss of use of parts of Clark avenue and Twentieth streets.
12. Loss of use of streets between Twenty-first street and Grand avenue, to be vacated for enlargement of yards.
13. Investment by terminal association in and about St. Louis of a total of $400,000.
14. Limited aid for city in opening park opposite Union Station.
15. Acquisition by the city of $150,000, which may be used for Ewing avenue bridge or any other purpose.

HAI! WILLAIN! 'WARE NEWSBOYS!

Hustling Post-Dispatch Venders Will Be Guests of Crawford Theater.

The first division of Post-Dispatch newsboys, who have received theater tickets from the branch managers are in high gear.

The newsboys are to be the guests of the Crawford Theater tonight, where they will witness a thrilling production, "Marked for Life," with Mr. Burt Hawley in the leading role.

These diversions are always the occasions of great delight to the little merchants who stand between the public and the newspaper, and Mr. Crawford is preparing to take good care of the Post-Dispatch newsboys.

That everybody may enjoy the evening best, the newsboys are requested to maintain good order at all times, both on entering the theater and during the performance.

The newsboys will be admitted at five minutes before 8 o'clock. Everybody else not first, so a line will be formed at the theater entrance.

The second division Post-Dispatch newsboys will be the guests of the theater two weeks hence.

Mr. Stuart, the booking agent, promises them the same high-class entertainment in the little Vaudeville.

RUSH AT THE ALOE SALE.

Crowds of People at Store Before Doors Were Opened.

Long before the doors were opened this morning for the Aloe fire sale at 402 North Fourth street, crowds of people, eager to avail themselves of the very low prices offered, had assembled and waited patiently until 9:30, when the doors were thrown open.

Minutes after the first and second floors were jammed with eager purchasers. Anticipating this rush the management had provided a large number of additional clerks to serve the customers. The throng was not confined to the old customers of the house, but the merits of the goods were well known, but to those who appreciated and desired to take advantage of the opportunity to secure first-class goods at remarkably low prices.

On the first floor is an assortment of Ewing goods second to none in the city. Eyes are tested by experts and the proper glass fitted into any sort of frame desired. The plan is to have a first-class line of artists' materials, photographic supplies, mechanical toys, jewelry, stationery, rubber goods, for the sick room, a beautiful assortment of pictures, plants, ferns, china, for decorating, leather goods, pyrographical goods and bric-a-bracs.

On the second floor are all sorts of surgical goods and hospital necessities, physician's supplies, operating and surgical instruments and architectural and civil engineers' supplies. Although a fire sale, much of the stock suffered no damage whatever and the remainder was damaged so slightly as to be undetectable. Cameras worth originally $20 are now sold at a very little, if any, over half the sum. The same is also true of other articles.

Does Not Like Wife's Cooking.

Max Hirschberg applied for a divorce from Lillian L. Hirschberg Monday. In his application he stated that the children cooked food that could be eaten. He and his wife separated Dec. 21, 1902. They were married Dec. 24, 1898.

"THE CHINESE HONEYMOON" OFFERS PLENTY OF REAL STRENUOUS COMEDY

Katie Barry and Fred Mace divided first honors at the Olympic Theater last night when "The Chinese Honeymoon" was given its first airing in St. Louis—or, perhaps, first touring would better express the conditions, for the Olympic last evening was certainly the hottest place imaginable. That the large audience could sit quietly up to 11:30 o'clock on such a night is a very best criticism that can be passed upon the entertaining qualities of the piece.

But why bother about the weather when the audience didn't. To return to the honeymoon.

If Miss Barry and Mr. Mace divided first honors, so did Violet Dale and William Prustette divide second honors. In fact, these four persons, aided by the chorus—of which the girls predominate by about ten to one—made up the show. The parts played by the other characters were largely flimsy.

It must be admitted that the comedy in "The Chinese Honeymoon" is largely of the slap stick variety, but with last night's audience it brought the laughs. The fun began with Miss Barry's attempt to carry off a trunk about ten times as big as she for it is known that Miss Barry is not bigger than a minute; grew more boisterous when Mr. Mace and Miss Conway were tied together with a rope and thrown into a sedan chair and reached the stage.

WIFE'S DEATH THE SIGNAL FOR SUICIDE

World's Fair Employee Ends His Life at Planters' After Receiving Telegram.

MESSAGE DELAYED 3 DAYS

News of Bereavement More Than Husband, Already Ill, Was Able to Bear.

Grieving over the death of his wife, news of which reached him in telegrams three days after the event, Robert Stockwell Hatcher of Lafayette, Ind., shot himself in a room at the Planters' Hotel at 11 o'clock Monday morning and died ten minutes later.

Mr. Hatcher was a clerk in the office of Walter H. Stevens, secretary of the World's Fair. Five years ago he was reading clerk of the National House of Representatives in Washington, where his wife formerly lived. Mrs. Hatcher, at the time of her death, was corresponding secretary general of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

She has been ill several years with consumption. Ten months ago Mr. Hatcher and wife, who were then staying at the home of Mrs. Hatcher's relative, A. J. Bannard, in Chicago, left for Arizona. They remained there several months, and as Mrs. Hatcher's health did not improve, they returned to the Bannard home. Mrs. Hatcher remained with Mrs. Bannard, and her husband came to St. Louis.

Last Wednesday he informed Mr. Stevens that he had had an operation performed and felt too ill to work. He said he would return to his desk Monday.

Friday night a telegram came to Mr. Stevens at Hotel Beers for Hatcher. Mr. Stevens did not know where Hatcher was staying. Sunday morning two more telegrams came. One was directed to Mr. Stevens and the other to Hatcher.

Long Search With Message.

The message to Mr. Stevens was from A. J. Bannard. It read: "Hatcher's wife died Friday. Please notify him. He has received no word." Mr. Stevens made an effort to locate Hatcher, but failed. Sunday afternoon he telegraphed to the office of the World's Fair, where he was at the time, and then enclosed the three telegrams in a letter and sent them to the hotel. Mr. Hatcher did not appear at his desk at the World's Fair on Monday morning. Shortly after 11 o'clock Mr. Stevens was informed of his death.

In the bouquet of the dead man's name was pinned one of the hotel blanks, which guests use to give directions concerning the forwarding of their mail on which was written:

"Notify H. C. Bannard, 410 State street, Chicago."

When Hatcher entered the Planters at 11 o'clock he registered from Lafayette, Ind., and was assigned to room 802. A few minutes later one of the housemen burst into the room, rushed into the room and found the guest on the floor, blood flowing from the wound, which was just above the right ear. The revolver lay on the floor about a foot from the body. Hatcher had been about 40 years old. He was neatly dressed, wearing a dark blue serge suit, patent leather shoes.

The body was taken to the morgue. The police notified Mr. Bannard, who will take charge of the funeral.

The telegrams which Mr. Stevens did not open were from Mr. Bannard. One was a mere notification of the death. The other sent a day later read:

"Greeting and sympathy. Have notified you. Have received no reply. Are you coming?"

The funeral of Charles Moran, veteran real estate agent, who had been in St. Louis 55 years, will be held Tuesday morning from St. Alphonsus Church, Grand and Finney avenues. Mr. Moran was 92 years old, and had never used either tobacco or liquor, referring to use the latter when physicians prescribed it. His wife died 15 years ago. Of their 14 children, three are living. John C. Moran, living at 515 E. 12th street, and Anastasia Moran, living at 515 E. 12th street, are his grandchildren and five great-grandchildren survive him.

ENRAPTURED THOUSANDS AT FAMOUS.

Wonderingly Gaze at the Exquisite Autumn Fancies Displayed.

The management of Famous can justly feel proud of the approval accorded it Monday by its many patrons—its 20th grand opening exhibition of new fall merchandise.

At this writing throngs are invading this great store intent upon seeing the new things which are being displayed in every department. To better care for the increased patronage anticipated by Famous this season, numerous alterations have been made under the past two months—many of the departments being enlarged and beautified.

The store throughout is heavily laden with the world's choicest wares—every department of goods having sent its best fall products for representation. There's a crispness and newness about the merchandise that's particularly enticing. Judging from the excellence of the goods, their beauty and practicability and the fair prices appended, it is safe to predict that the increase of business that Famous anticipates this fall will be more than realized.

X-RAY RESTORES COLOR TO HAIR

Physician Makes the Discovery While Treating Patient for Cancer on the Lip.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

RICHMOND, Ind., Sept. 14.—Dr. K. D. Hawley of Columbus, Ind., by the use of the X rays, has been able to restore to its natural color hair that had become gray. The discovery was accidental.

For years one of his patients had been suffering from a cancer on his lip. Dr. Hawley prevailed upon him to take the X-ray treatment. Several hundred exposures were made on the diseased lip, and finally the cancer was removed.

The patient is well along in years and his hair and beard were perfectly white, but the portion of the beard exposed to the rays has become black, its natural color. Dr. Hawley is an elderly physician, and he, too, had gray hair until he gave himself the same treatment.

NEGROES TO FOUND RELIGIOUS COLONY

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SANTA FE, N. M., Sept. 14.—A colony of 200 Texas negroes has perfected plans for the establishment of the town of Blackdom upon a religious and communistic basis.

Public land in the arid belt in Chavez County, in southeastern New Mexico, is being taken up for it. The colony is to be a refuge for worthy negroes from the Southern states who are willing to subscribe to the rules of the colony.

It is said that all the stock will be supplied by negroes who will become actual settlers. The promoters are Campbellites in religion.

YOUNG MAN DIES, PARENTS ABROAD

Members of Family Cannot Reach
Bereaved Father and Mother
With News.

While the body of Charles S. Brown, Jr., lies at his home, 237 St. Louis avenue, his wealthy parents are traveling abroad unaware that their son has even been ill.

Mr. Brown, who was in his 30th year, became ill about two weeks ago. An effort was made by his sister to send a cablegram to his father, who then was understood to be in England.

It was found impossible to connect with the travelers or even to secure addresses that would give friends a chance to intercept Mr. and Mrs. Brown.

One postal card was received from them since the hunt for the missing friends. It further complicated matters by announcing that the parents, who had intended to return Sept. 10, had secured an extension of their tickets and were setting out for Rome.

Meanwhile the son rapidly grew worse, pneumonia developed, and early Sunday morning he died. His friends in the firm of which Mr. Brown was a member are now arranging to have a friend meet the couple in New York if they cable the date of sailing.

The remains of the son, who was a member of Union Methodist church, will be kept in a receiving vault until the arrival of his parents.

ROOMER WANDERS; FIGHT FOLLOWS

Two Men Stabbed in Struggle at Washington Hotel and Five Are Arrested.

Because he insisted on visiting another guest in the Washington Hotel, Seventh and Washington avenues, at 1 o'clock Monday morning, Albert Pleasant of 400 Newstead avenue fought with the proprietor, as a result of which two men were stabbed and five, in various conditions of attire, were carried off to the police station.

Pleasant entered the hotel and registered soon after midnight. He was shown to a room on the second floor by Carl Miller, the proprietor, who was somewhat surprised a half hour later to find Pleasant wandering about the halls. Pleasant explained that he desired to find the ice cooler and, upon getting a drink, started for his room. A few minutes later he was again found in the hall. This time he said he desired to visit a friend on the floor above. Mr. Miller called his attention to the house rules and refused to permit the early morning exchange of courtesies.

The two men clinched and Miller attempted to eject the troublesome guest. Pleasant braced himself against a wall for an argument, whereupon Miller's brother, Samuel, recently from New York, joined in the melee. The two men were making rapid work of each other, and Pleasant, finding the hall in an uproar, began to cut his way to safety with a pocket knife. In the mix-up Pleasant received an ugly gash in the wrist. Sam Miller, of the opposing forces, was pinned in the thigh. The arrival of the police prevented further injuries.

The life of both principals having cooled Monday morning, the case was allowed to go by default. The injuries to both men being attributed to a pane of glass that was broken during the row.

CREATIONS OF COLOR.

Fall Opening at Sonnenfeld's Displays a Great Array of Beautiful Things in Hats.

The fall opening of millinery, coats and tailor-made gowns was in full force at Sonnenfeld's Monday morning. The windows were artistically arranged with new designs in imported hats, coats and gowns, and other pretty things. The interior was prettily decorated with palms, ferns and cut flowers, which placed in contrast with the old rose tinted walls, made an attractive scheme.

The store was filled with customers who were shown all of the latest importation and creations. Many noted and beautiful effects are to be seen at this establishment in neckwear, ruffs and bows, in lace, chiffon, fur and feathers, and other interesting things such as the new shapes and designs in side and crown hats. The latest fads in purses and hand bags attract the eye. One handsome imported hat from France, Paris, was a crown hat, rolled brim, walking effect, with high diamond-shaped crown, crown of brown velvet and satin, regal ribbon bands, a large brown plume falling softly to the side.

Brown seem to predominate this season and another brown creation from Paris, of shirred silk and Prince of Wales feathers was a beautiful affair. One of the sweetest and unique productions from Paris was a cream wool and honiton lace hat with bands of cream silk plush, hand-some plumes adorning the side and back.

Next to the brown came the lavender or claret shades, and then came in fact for one exquisite creation was an imported hat in the latest shape, the hat in satin velvet with a large orchid plume, brim was covered and faced with plaited silk plush in the dark, purple claret velvet of the brim a large cluster of claret dahlias were caught by a bow of velvet ribbon in claret tint.

For evening wear the claret and pale blue shades are very effective. A very handsome large hat with rolled brim from Rebourg, Paris, was covered in pale blue velvet. A wide band of silk daisy lace was brought across the oblong-shaped crown. Shiring of pale blue satin royal edged the brim. Over the front fell gracefully three shaded pale blue ostrich tips, held by soft velvet ribbon in pale blue, which was caught together with a beautiful Rhine stone ornament.

BOY "DOING" THE COUNTRY.

Tourist-Like, Youth Stays Only a Week in One Place.

"Captain, it would be absolutely impossible for me to tell you the names of all the towns I have visited. I seldom remain in a town more than a week," replied Robert L. Field, 14, of 1212 Broadway, when questioned by Capt. Creeley at the Magnolia Avenue Police Station.

Robert was arrested with Leroy T. Fields, aged 12, in the Frisco yards near Chouteau avenue Monday morning. Leroy is small for his age. He is the son of Robert L. Field, who lives at the Central Hotel, 410 Market street.

Robert told Capt. Creeley that his father died four years ago and that since that time he had made his living as an auctioneer and singer.

When asked to sing he said, "How could you expect me to sing in this place?"

"I was coming from the city five days ago," he said, "when I met Leroy Field. He told me his name was John Green, and asked if he might travel with me. I gave him permission to do so."

"The next day," he told him that he was a runaway boy, I told him that I could not be his companion any longer, because I could not afford to be arrested."

"He persisted in following me. This is the result."

No further comment was made of a rhesus. Prescription No. 22, by Elmer A. Amend, physician, St. Louis.

Opening of our

French Model Hats

Tuesday and Wednesday

A Grand exposition of Fall and Winter styles—a great treat promised those who come to see the finest Millinery display we ever produced. Madame Reynolds spent three months in Paris gathering up this magnificent collection, and had you yourself made a trip to Paris, you could not have seen so many pretty creations and Millinery Novelties as we will show on our opening days. Hats and novelties from the most celebrated Parisian makers selected with every care.

Entirely New Styles,

Entirely New Materials,

Entirely New Colorings.

Every article shown will be of the very latest production. You should see the

New Willow Plumes

New Shaded Ostrich Plumes

New Corrugated Plushes

New Shaded Velvets

New Shaded Velvet Ribbon

New Jets

New Steel Ornaments

New Beaver Plushes

and hundreds of beautiful novelties.

And now come the Hats—such dreams as you never saw in all your life, and what is more, we will sell you your choice of every French Model Hat at the one price of $25.00 Each

These model hats actually cost us from $48.00 to $75.00 each. You will find Paris models from several new makers' rooms this season, besides the old artists so familiar to all.

From our own work rooms and New York patterns you will find lovely hats at—$7.50, $10.00, $12.50 and $15.00 each.

Young misses and children were not forgotten and we will show many beautiful models for them.

In Paris every lady wears a feather boa—in fact no style of dress there seems finished without it. We have them in all prices, all styles and every kind of material—ostrich boas, mole skin boas, fancy marabout boas, all shown in our millinery department.

We issue no special invitations by mail or otherwise; this advertisement is an invitation to all.

You must not miss our magnificent window display, corner Broadway and Washington avenue; in the Broadway window you will find an entire window of the famous "Georgette" Model Hats; on Washington avenue side you will find an entire window of "Mons. Lewis" Hats.

New Silks.

SOFT, clinging fabrics, small, neat designs, canvas weaves and Tweed effects in all-silk goods, are the most popular of the new ideas.

The Shirt-waist Suit is a pronounced factor in styles for fall and silk is especially desirable as a material for Shirt-waist Suits.

THE COLOR FAD in the East is the gun-metal effect. We have them in a great profusion of weaves and designs. We mention a few of the entirely new weaves and ideas, of which we carry a full range of colors.

Fancy Linens.

MERE mention of the word "Linen" excites attention of every woman, for who is she that does not take especial pride in the possession of dainty linens? Our buyer, while abroad, gathered a collection of the most beautiful fancy linens we ever beheld.

From Ireland come the dainty Embroidered linens, so finely and perfectly worked. If for no other reason but their linens the Irish have much to be proud of. You are all invited to inspect these beautiful pieces—every one embroidered by hand.

From France and Germany come the Renaissance and Battenberg effects—are very pretty ornaments for dining table, dresser or center table.

From Mexico, America's friendly neighbor, come the dainty effects known as Mexican drawn work—doilies, tea cloths, dressers or scarfs, etc.

From Japan, the Yankee of the Orient, come the most exquisite dainty little doilies, also large embroidered center-pieces, in many new and novel designs.

A window display of them on corner of Broadway and St. Charles street.

What would be Sir Thomas Lipton's feelings were Mrs. Graeme Hunter to win what he has repeatedly lost?

THE TERMINAL COMMITTEE'S REPORT.

The report of the committee of the Business Men's League on terminal facilities is a document of the greatest interest and importance to the people of St. Louis. It marks progress in the attainment of better terminal conditions, the need of which for the continued growth and prosperity of St. Louis is imperative.

The committee has done its work systematically and thoroughly. It has studied the situation from the business standpoint with evident care and thoughtfulness. Its description of present conditions shows an appalling lack of efficiency in the handling of St. Louis freight, which, if continued, must seriously check the expansion of St. Louis commerce and manufacture and retard the city's growth.

The report verifies and emphasizes all the information published in the Post-Dispatch concerning terminal conditions and is the direct outcome of the vigorous campaign conducted by this newspaper in behalf of both the business and the popular interests of St. Louis. The effort to improve the terminal situation was directly caused by the Post-Dispatch's urgent demand that St. Louis must have an equitable adjustment of terminal difficulties and discriminations as a prior condition to the granting of any further privileges to the Terminal Association.

The conclusion reached by the committee is in the nature of a bargain with the Terminal Railroad Association by which the latter is to receive the franchises now pending in the Municipal Assembly in return for certain promises. These are:

A St. Louis bill of lading on all incoming and outgoing freight.

West side terminal facilities for all St. Louis freight.

A general passenger depot near the foot of Washington avenue.

Greatly enlarged coal yards.

The payment of $150,000—the old Terminal debt—into the city treasury.

The aid and co-operation of the association in acquiring two blocks in front of Union Station for a public square.

These concessions, of value to the Terminal Association, would be of great value to the city. While not embracing all that St. Louis wants—the bridge arbitrary still remaining—it may be conceded that if carried out they would be most advantageous and would probably lead to the abolition of the bridge arbitrary. But there is an IF in the bargain. The terminal managers promise all the west side terminal facilities needed, but the use of such terminals is contingent upon the granting of St. Louis bills of lading, which is contingent upon the consent of the railroad traffic associations. The Terminal Association promises to undertake the task of securing the consent of the railroads to the placing of St. Louis in the rate sheets and the granting of through bills of lading.

What guarantee is there that this object will be accomplished? There ought to be an assurance that all the betterments promised will certainly follow the granting of the franchises sought. No mistake should be made upon this point. No mere promise of an effort to obtain justice for St. Louis should be accepted as the actual accomplishment of the object.

The committee naturally viewed the subject wholly from the commercial standpoint. There are other standpoints vitally affecting the welfare of St. Louis.

The Post-Dispatch does not believe it wise to give up the part of the river front asked for the elevated road. There are details of the franchise bills to be carefully considered before they are passed.

Both citizens and legislators should form an intelligent judgment on the points involved in the report before giving it approval.

Maybe that elephantine-Barbadoes-leg monster that came down to us through the Chicago drainage ditch is the reptilian curse that accounts for the Chicago foot as well as for the Barbadoes leg.

GLAD HAND FOR JULIA.

There ought to be a mighty grateful welcome awaiting sweet Princess Cantacuzene of Russia, formerly Miss Julia Dent, Countess of these United States and especially of St. Louis, once the home of the Grants, upon her return from the dominions of the Great White Bear.

This is because, as the Sunday Post-Dispatch has told us, the Russo-American Princess is coming back to her native land for the express purpose of proving that there is such a thing as a happy international marriage. The convincing proof she offers is her own union to Prince Michael Cantacuzene Speransky, whose beloved wife she has been for five years now. She is as happy as the day is long, and she also means to show us, for our approval and admiration, the Count Michael Speransky, her baby.

Assuredly we need proof to make us believe that the marriages of American girls to distinguished foreigners can develop into happy marriages. The vast majority of them have been of the monkey-and-parrot variety, the seed of almost cataplectic woe and the root of evils unnumbered. Of course, there's Mary Anderson, who has just refused an offer of $500,000 for a reading tour, because she's happy at home with De Navarro, her husband, but De Navarro is only a plain commoner, and commoners are much easier to get along with than nobles. We'll be glad to see the happy Princess Cantacuzene. It's one of those pleasant surprises, don't you know.

Can it be that Theodore the Strenuous barred Sir Thomas Lipton from the banquet of the Seawanhaka-Corinthian Yacht Club because of a presidential conviction that two in the limelight constitute an uncomfortable crowd?

A QUESTION OF DISFRANCHISEMENT.

What do honest stockholders in St. Louis corporations think of the plea, lately and openly made, that it is necessary for public corporations to set aside large sums for the expenses of controlling government?

These sums are withdrawn from profits available as dividends. It is alleged that they are not used to buy the votes of legislators or members of municipal assemblies already elected, but for use in the election itself as "campaign expenses."

When a citizen subscribes for stock in a corporation, does he transfer the rights of his citizenship to its managers in doing so? Is the corporation thereafter empowered by him not only to withhold earnings on his stock, but to spend them in exercising his functions of citizenship?

Are those who invest in incorporated business enterprises to accept a rule under which they have no political individuality left, but are subject to have their rights of citizenship exercised over their heads by the corporation they have organized?

What does an individual stockholder's citizenship count for if he is being disfranchised by his own corporation? What more demoralizing form of disfranchisement could there be than this?

Uncle Mark Hanna will be greatly missed should his health keep him from the management of the presidential campaign for his party. Much of this illness is doubtless due to that intolerable Tom Johnson, who is constantly seeking to reduce Uncle Mark's car fares in Cleveland.

Several dairymen have just been fined for "selling skimmed milk adulterated with water." Why should there be any milk at all in the "milk" sold to consumers who will buy any kind of water that has been whitened?

The daily attendance on the children's playgrounds during the summer has been more than 5000. What a saving of place and other perishable articles that always attract the attention of the small boy!

Mr. Carnegie has not bought Bannockburn and "has no use for battlefields." He doubtless thinks, with many other thinkers, that there ought never to be another battle.

Senator Platt of New York made Roosevelt vice-president. Senator Platt of Connecticut is trying to make him President a second time, and he is of Platt-Deutch origin.

There are people who regard corporations as legitimate pickings, and there are corporations who regard the public as legitimate picking.

Peace will of course have come in the Philippines by the time the interparliamentary peace conference meets in St. Louis next year.

POST-DISPATCH SNAP-SHOTS.

The burning of Rome gave Nero no Pain.

The bears on the state seal rejoice that Gov. Dockery is now bare.

The highwaymen at least do not believe policemen are to be found in saloons.

The women's club is surely on its feet when it is building a ballroom 100 feet long.

The saloons are now robbed so often that they are rather sorry they didn't allow Carrie Nation to go ahead.

It will be a serious matter should the burglars keep up throughout the winter the practice of putting the barkeep in the icebox.

A thousand veterinarians will meet in St. Louis next year. The subject of the treatment of automobiles will doubtless be thoroughly discussed.

American enterprise is permeating all countries. Three Americans have just been sentenced to long terms of imprisonment for robbing trains in Mexico.

The separation of Gov. Dockery from his whiskers is important, but not calamitous. In the vitalizing climate of Missouri it is easy to renew almost any hirsute growth below the top of the head.

POST-DISPATCH ANSWERS.

Legal questions not answered. Business addresses not given. No answer printed on any special day. No bets decided. Don't sign "Subscriber" or "Constant Reader." One initial is enough.

AGATA.—Inquire at Mercantile Trust Co.

C. R.—Charles A. Bookwalter is mayor of Indianapolis.

R.—De-ron-l-mo, a soft and accent on second syllable.

H. E. M.—Helen M. Gould, 578 Fifth avenue, New York.

M. B. A. S.—Civil service examination for mail carriers and clerks, Nov. 15.

H. R.—Various encyclopedias have special remarks. See those in the public library.

MILTON.—Approximate population of Oklahoma City, O. T., 8000; of Springfield, Mo., 25,000.

MRS. O. D. P.—See second answer under heading. You might try a "want ad" or the department stores.

M.—Minister to Turkey in Cleveland's first administration, Sumner S. Cox of New York; in his second, Alexander W. Terrell of Texas.

A.—We have seen no record of the final settlement of Chicago World's Fair, but it was thought the stockholders would get back 15 to 20 per cent.

THOMAS.—In 1900 the world's population was estimated at 1,487,900,000. In 1903 the population of North America had increased to over 100,000,000.

C. J. T. S.—Ex-President Cleveland is 68 years old and has five children. "Sanitaeis Hiebarbel" is as near "sanitary plumbing" in German as we can get. "Hiebarbel" meaning "lead work."

C. W.—If at none of the "Homes" listed in the city directory, you can find no place for an aged Catholic couple, paying a reasonable amount per week, we could hardly give you the information you ask.

MAC.—ables are supported by the bed of the ocean. The 1600 miles between Newfoundland and Ireland is a plateau, with a depth of from 1500 to 2000 fathoms. Some of the brawlies use imported hops.

WILLIE WILSON.—No premium on 1894 silver dollar. F. C. W.—No premium on 1894 dime. (In a billion there are a thousand millions.) HUMAN STAFFORD.—No premium on 1894 half dollar. F. H. R.—No premium on 1895 dime.

R.—You can at any time get gold or paper money for silver dollars at the subtreasury for dollar. If there were to be any signs of the government "falling," the silver dollars could be quickly called in. The dollar in a silver dollar is whatever the market price of the dollar may be at the time it is offered for sale.

Trust Promotion Checked.

From the Springfield (Mass.) Republican.

The glut in the securities market and heavy fall in prices have given a decided check to the trust-promotion business. The New York Journal of Commerce, which keeps a record of incorporations in eastern states of $1,000,000 or greater capitalization, finds an August total for such corporations of only $17,650,000, compared with $241,879,550 in the month last year.

Not Much Free Trade Here.

But one Democratic tariff has been passed by Congress since the Republican party was born, and that was a highly protective measure. As framed and enacted it would have produced ample revenues. It failed in that respect because the Supreme Court cut an August total for such corporations of only $17,650,000, compared with $241,879,550 in the month last year.

It failed in that respect because the Supreme Court cut an August total for such corporations of only $17,650,000, compared with $241,879,550 in the month last year.

THE MAN IN THE STREET

The Call of the Sea.

Why are our young men so eager to enlist in the navy? Is a question now agitating the breasts of St. Louisans who daily witness throngs of native youths struggling into the naval recruiting station. What general attraction can the sea possess for the citizens of an inland town, to whom blue water is but a name? We want to know whether it is that they love the city less, or their country more, or whether their reasons are personal rather than patriotic. In these prosperous times our young men might easily find lucrative employment in the city, and in fighting bores and an outlet for that patriotic ardor inherent in their bosoms, and by serving the city, render valuable services to Uncle Sam. The reasons, therefore, for the epidemic of enlistment in the navy, must be other than pecuniary or patriotic.

Doubtless they have to do with the clothes. Any male adult who has experienced a St. Louis summer must admit the attractions of the sailor's attire, and the visit of the Arkansas emphasized the charms of the sailor's attire, and taught our young men that to hold their own, they must join the navy.

The wholesale enlistment of St. Louis boys in the navy is nothing but a revolt against sartorial conservatism. What free man could resist the opportunity to throw aside at one fell throw, coat, collar, cuffs and suspenders?

Explaining his visit Gov. Dockery said that he "just needed a few things and dropped down to get them." Any political heads missing?

There is a dispute raging as to whether a man who died recently in a local hospital was named Ray or Light. It is a dark mystery.

There may be a lack of hotel accommodations here, but the few hostilities here will endeavor to see that no money goes without lodging.

THAT MYSTERIOUS AIRSHIP.

Two Men Near Indianapolis Say They Saw It Plainly.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 14.—Several persons claim to have seen an airship sail over this part of the state Sunday afternoon.

They say the ship came from the northwest and was 70 feet above the earth. Edgar A. Perkins, president of the State Federation of Labor, who lives at Irvington, a suburb of Indianapolis, said he watched the machine for ten or fifteen minutes and that it appeared to the eye to be 20 or 30 feet long; that it made a half-circle over Irvington and then went out of sight.

of the suffering and danger in store for her, robs the expectant mother of all pleasant anticipations of the coming event, and casts over her a shadow of gloom which cannot be shaken off. Thousands of women have found that the use of Mother's Friend during pregnancy robs confinement of all pain and danger, and insures safety to life of mother and child. This scientific liniment is a god-send to all women at the time of their most critical trial. Not only does Mother's Friend carry women safely through the perils of child-birth, but its use gently prepares the system for the coming event, prevents "morning sickness," and other discomforts of this period.

Mythical Liberty.

That freedom of individual action which is supposed to be guaranteed to citizens of this commonwealth, so long as it does not hamper the liberties of others, appears to be a dead letter. Witness the case of Mrs. Johanna Schrader, who recently took occasion to temporarily forsake her usual routine of occupations and enjoy a rest.

Mrs. Schrader, believing in the above-mentioned liberty of the individual, neglected to inform her friends and relations of her intentions, and instantly the report was spread that Mrs. Schrader had "mysteriously disappeared."

The entire community at once manifested an unseemly curiosity as to Mrs. Schrader and her doings. People who had never before heard of Mrs. Schrader became highly indignant that she had disappeared without consulting them. Though none of her friends or relations had been in any way victimized by her evasion, they felt a decided grievance against her.

And when it developed that the lady was merely taking a quiet trip down the river, the entire community manifested an intense resentment against her that she was safe. Had her body been found floating in the river, we might have forgiven her, but to have our emotions so wrought up only to suffer an anti-climax, that was too much!

All of which goes to show that our boasted liberty is a myth. We are slaves to our neighbors.

east in a straight line. He says he distinctly saw two figures, one of a man with dark hat on who sat in the center of the car under canopy and was apparently working the machinery. James Agnew, a resident of Irvington, gives the same information. Inquiries to a dozen towns east of Indianapolis have failed to find any person who saw the machine. Except by those who claim to have taken the machine the subject has not been taken seriously.

Is an ordeal which all women approach with indescribable fear, for nothing compares with the pain and horror of child-birth. The thought of the suffering and danger in store for her, robs the expectant mother of all pleasant anticipations of the coming event, and casts over her a shadow of gloom which cannot be shaken off. Thousands of women have found that the use of Mother's Friend during pregnancy robs confinement of all pain and danger, and insures safety to life of mother and child. ## LITTLE GIRL HAS GREAT BIG HEART

Mary Jessie Burr's Accumulated Nickels and Dimes Go to Relieve Poor Family.

Mary Jessie Burr, a little girl living with her parents in Park Place, has found use for the dimes, nickels and pennies that she has been saving for several months, with the purpose of devoting the accumulated sum to some important object.

She has bestowed it upon the destitute family of Joseph Harman, the story of whose death in a tent at the foot of Ferry street was told in the Post-Dispatch Saturday.

Mary Jessie Burr was one of the many thousands of little girls and grown folks who read the story of the destitution that afflicts the family. She read the death of the father, and of the mother's sad lament to Capt. Phillips of the Sixth District that she had no money with which to bury her husband and no food or clothing for her three children.

The story made an impression upon little Mary. All Saturday evening she was quiet and thoughtful, but said nothing of her great scheme. But Sunday morning at the breakfast table she announced her purpose. "Papa," she said firmly, "I know what I am going to do with my money. I am going to give it to that poor woman and her little children who read in the Post-Dispatch about here," and she gave to her father a clipping.

"But I thought you wanted to use that money for yourself," said the father. "I did," answered little Mary. "But they need it a whole lot worse than I do. They haven't got any papa, or money or clothes, or house to live in, and I just want you to go right down to Capt. Phillips tomorrow morning and give him my money for them."

Mary Jessie counted out the pennies, nickels and dimes in her little toy bank, and found that the sum total was $2. And this sum her father took to Capt. Phillips Monday morning and the three little children were given their money.

Mary Jessie's father refused to give his name or address.

GARBAGE BURNING PLAN IS APPROVED

Members of Sanitary Commission, Aside From House of Delegates, Favor Incineration.

The members of the commission to investigate methods of municipal garbage reduction met at the City Hall Monday morning and adjourned to meet Friday at 10 o'clock.

Incineration by private contract will be the recommendation for the future disposal of St. Louis' garbage by the municipal investigation commission, which held its first meeting Monday morning.

While a majority of the commission have not yet publicly declared themselves, it is known that members of the board of public improvements strongly favor this solution of the garbage reduction problem.

It is also considered certain that the six members of the board will stand together in recommending an ordinance to the assembly. As there are 15 members of the commission, they will need only two additional votes to control the report of the commission.

These two votes, it is expected, will be secured from the four other members of the commission outside the House of Delegates, that is, Health Commissioner Simon, Councilmen Gardner, Spierhalter and Sheehan.

Members of the board expect that Andrew Gassolo, the new speaker of the House, will name a new sanitary committee which will represent the Butler interest. The five members of this committee will be members of the garbage investigation commission.

Such a committee will, of course, be interested in seeing nothing done to prevent the St. Louis Sanitary Commission from renewal of its present contract in November, 1936.

Members of the board think the House members will be powerless to prevent a report recommending the discontinuance of the contract with the sanitary company and the adoption of a new method of disposing of the garbage.

It is thought that the Council will speedily pass an incineration ordinance which is recommended by the commission, but trouble is expected when the bill reaches the House.

SLEPT WHILE BURGLAR ROBBED

East St. Louis Couple Did Not Awaken When Visitor Walked Over Their Bed.

While A. S. Hammack and his wife of 1406 Coles avenue, East St. Louis, slept on the floor Sunday night a burglar entered their home, walked over their bodies and robbed them of a pair of shoes, a gold watch and chain, and 46 cents. Three pairs of trousers were also taken, but one was left in the kitchen and two in the yard of a neighbor. The burglar climbed through a kitchen window, he searched through two rooms, coming last to that occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Hammack.

In order to reach a rocker on which hung a pair of trousers, it was necessary for him to step over their bed. His footprint was left on the floor.

Archbishop's First Services.
Pontifical solemn high mass and pontifical vespers were celebrated by Archbishop Harty at St. Leo's Church Sunday. They were his first services since his elevation at Rome. The mass was officiated by the choir at the morning service consisting of 40 voices and an orchestra of 25 or more. Bishop Glennon preached the sermon and predicted that Archbishop Harty's work in the Philippines would be of the same high order of excellence as at St. Leo's.

MINE PROSPECTORS AROUSE INDIANS JOKER DISTURBS STATE CAPITAL

Trouble Is Brewing Between Kiowas and Comanches and the Mineral Hunters.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
GUTHRIE, O. T., Sept. 14.—Travelers coming in from the Wichita Mountains in southwestern Oklahoma, report great danger of serious trouble between the Kiowa and Comanche Indians and the miners and mineral prospectors, because the former object to the latter working the Indian allotments for minerals.

The Indians are arming to protect their lands from intrusion and the miners are following a like course.

In the vicinity of Mount Sheridan a conflict is imminent and the Indian police have ordered the miners to vacate.

The latter have secured arms and are determined. The individual Indians, who own the allotments, clash with the miners daily, and unless something is done to conciliate the Indians, serious trouble will result.

Intruder in Grand Avenue Room
Thus Employs Himself, but Does

William Grayson, 1115 South Grand avenue, late Sunday night brought three policemen, who found an intruder in the second story room, partially destroyed, smashing the furniture.

He was Henry L. Bryan, age 22, of 2800 Russell street, who had been reported missing earlier in the evening.

Bryan had broken into the Grayson home through a front window, frightening a 15-year-old daughter of Mr. Grayson and a servant, who were the only occupants of the house at that time.

Bryan made an attempt to molest them, confining himself to the front room, where he smashed everything in sight and then prepared for bed. The City Hospital authorities diagnosed his case as one of nervous prostration.

CRAWFORD'S OPENING.
Big Washington Avenue Store, in Gala Array, Displays Big Lines of Choice Fabrics.

Monday and Tuesday are opening days at D. Crawford's Washington avenue store. Every department is in gala dress, harmonizing prettily with the elaborate decorations of green bay trees and masses of creamy white flowers. On the first floor are displayed silks and dress fabrics that rival the rainbow in hue and the lace are of the daintiest and choicest.

The second floor is given up to muslin underwear, corsets, millinery and the suit and cloak department. The latter contains garments of the very latest designs both from European and American markets. Some are decorated with the new and fashionable Persian coloring, and others within the reach of the most modest purse, all built on exclusive and chic lines.

The suits are made of the latest and most approved weaves; some are of Victoria cloth, all wool, some of the finest crepe, some of the latest and most approved velvets, new chenille trimmings and Oriental buttons and clasps.

The fifth floor is occupied by the cafe, which will prove a boon to many shoppers. This department has been newly decorated and is light, airy and cool. Crawford's make a specialty of good service in their cafe and their regular dinners at 25 cents are unequaled in St. Louis.

PLAYING FOR CHAMPIONSHIP.

Dr. Sheldon, Kansas City, Contender at Tennis Against Howard Eting.

This afternoon's play in the state championship tennis tournament on the courts of the St. Louis Amateur Athletic Association, Forest Park, will decide the state championship singles.

The most interesting contest of the tourney is expected, Dr. Sheldon of Kansas City having challenged Howard Eting, last season's title holder, for the state cup.

Contrary to general expectations, Sheldon defeated the Triple A representative, T. P.
Gieson, in Saturday's matches, after a hard fight ending with a deuce set, 11-9, for Sheldon.

Eting and R. McKittick successfully defended their title to the doubles championship, and the exertion of the contest was too great to permit of the championship singles being played.

Three sets in five are necessary to win.
The contest will end the state tournament.

Back to Days of Yore.
Tallow candles furnished the only light that the Laclede Hotel had from 8 o'clock to midnight Sunday night. The dynamo which furnishes light for the hotel was wrong early in the evening and had to be shut down. Bellboys were sent from room to room with candles, and for four hours
the light of other days burned flickeringly throughout the hotel.

INVADED PEARY'S REALM.

Dan C. Nugent Saw Midnight Sun in Far North.

The great interest shown in European countries in the World's Fair was one of the facts that most impressed Daniel C.
Nugent on his tour of Europe, from which he has just returned.

"The nations of Europe will be well represented," he said. "They are sending their young people to this country to observe our methods and the World's Fair will offer them additional opportunity."

Mr. Nugent was accompanied by his family, and they spent most of their time in the nations of Europe.

Norway, the "land of the midnight sun," visiting Hammerfest, the northernmost town of Europe, where he saw the sun at midnight.

Mr. Nugent also visited cities in Russia and Germany.

Prof. Langston claimed that the negro's friends told him the plain facts as to his condition.

The negro's friends do not flatter him. The negro's surroundings are not what they should be. The negro is a great majority of the American people are disposed to feel kindly toward the negro and assist him. He has his advan-ment in his own hands. Prof. Langston spoke especially of conditions which are manifested by the negro in his present condition.
